

MODULE 2. d: Managing the Finance Function

ASSIGNMENT

After all these readings, I want you to answer the following corresponding questions:

1. How are you managing your finances as a student?

- My mindset in managing my finances is to have a daily budget in a week. Since I am receiving a weekly allowance from my parents, I am budgeting the money that I will be spending on a daily basis in order for me to effectively allocate my allowance. I divide my money for different fees including transportation, food, and savings. With this mindset, I was able to spend necessary money for my needs, and avoid unnecessary expenses.

2. After studying, do you think your course will give you high-paying career paths/jobs?

- As a civil engineering student, I often hear that it is a high-paying career, but sometimes I hear otherwise. Since my course requires a board exam, I think my job opportunities are high and wide because of its credibility. In particular, I plan to work as a government employee in roles such as project engineer, construction manager, or inspector, which offer stable employment and good long-term benefits.
